Prevailing Attributes..

Pacific Grove is situated on the beautiful Bay of Monterey, and is connected with the ancient capital of the State by frequent trains of the Southern Pacific Company, and by street cars, also by a pleasant drive of two miles and a half over a splendid macadamized roadway. In beauty of location Pacific Grove cannot be excelled, its graceful pines Improvements are constantly going on. Every interest in Pacific Grove is born of that higher sense that comes of education and refinement. Something is being done all the time for public and private betterment. New streets are being laid out and graded. New sidewalks, new buildings, beautified gardens and awns add rapidly and effectively to its already abundant charms.

extending to the water's edge and affording a delightful refuge from the heat of the sun. It has long been established as a medical fact that a residence in a country wooded with pines is peculiarly beneficial for all those suffering with bronchial or throat affections. As a healthful place of resort it is not surpassed by any locality in the State.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

An unlimited supply of pure mountain water from the headwaters of the Carmel River has been introduced throughout the Grove. This splendid water is conveyed in large iron mains for a distance of twenty-five miles, and is distributed on streets in the Grove where property is improved, and will also be taken wherever improvements are to be made.

LIVERY STABLES.

Board for horses can be had at very reasonable rates, also single and double teams. Careful drivers sent with teams when desired. Persons wishing to take care of their own teams can rent stalls and obtain feed at reasonable prices.

NEW BICYCLE PATH.

A course of ten miles is being constructed along the beach and through the forest for the exclusive use of wheelmen.

CHURCH AND ASSEMBLY HALL.

The Methodist Church and Assembly Hall, is situated three blocks west of the El Carmelo Hotel, fronting on Lighthouse Avenue. It is in Gothic style having two towers of equal height. The auditorium is 56x78 feet with galleries. On each side is a chapel, 24x48 feet, and in the rear an organ gallery 16x24. The extreme dimensions of the building are 95x105. The chapels are separated from the main room by glazed partitions, which are movable, and the whole may be thus thrown into one large auditorium. This beautiful temple has cost upwards of $20,000.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Religious services, including Sunday school, will be held every Sunday.

Clergymen of various denominations will officiate.

IN CONCLUSION.

This peerless seaside resort, although a less brilliant neighbor of Monterey than the Hotel del Monte, is none the less attractive in many respects. It is to the Pacific Coast what Nantucket, Martha's Vineyard and Ocean Grove are to Atlantic seaside resorts, except that Pacific Grove has as equable a temperature as Monterey itself, and is kept open all the year round.

The history of Pacific Grove furnishes striking evidence of the rare value of the climate.
A few years ago it was started as a camping-ground and a place for holding the annual conference of the Methodist-Episcopal Church. It was laid out in lots, and tents made of cloth stretched over wooden frames were erected.
Soon, however, it outgrew its original purpose.
Tasteful cottages were built, stores sprang into existence, and the population increased beyond all expectation. The prices of choice lots advanced, and small fortunes were made. The Pacific Improvement Company made addition after addition to the original plat, until now the townsite covers an area of about two square miles, and has a population during the summer season of about 5,000 souls.

It is still growing with the same lusty vigor. Handsome and expensive residences have been built, and beautiful flower gardens abound on every side. The government of the community is patriarchal and unique; and it admirably serves the purpose of keeping without the borders of the town all disreputable, unruly and boisterous characters, and all unwholesome and demoralizing sports and pastimes. It is a home and a haven for the gentle, the refined, the cultured, where carousing and dissipation are unknown. It is also the favorite assembling place of various organizations.

The climate is all that can be desired, being remarkably equable, varying but little during the year, and being far milder than any place farther north.
Oppressively warm days are unknown, and it is seldom unpleasantly cold. The Grove settlement is unsurpassed for grandeur and beauty of scenery, commanding a splendid view of the Bay of Monterey, and being in close proximity to the lighthouse, and within a morning's walk of that pearl of beauties, Cypress Point. For bathing purposes the beach is unequaled, having a gradual slope; and invalids wishing to take Warm Sea Baths can avail themselves of the opportunity of the Bathing Pavilion of the Hotel del Monte.

The Grove has connection with all parts of the State by railroad and steamboat, Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, Western Union Telegraph and Sunset Telephone.

.. EL CARMELO ..

PACIFIC GROVE'S ELEGANT AND COMMODIOUS HOTEL

It has been the aim of the designers and builders of El Carmelo to present something in modern architecture more the result of inspiration than of mechanical skill or taste; both of which, however, have entered largely into the plans of the projector.

The site of El Carmelo has been happily chosen; and the new caravansary stands pretentiously upon the main entrance into Pacific Grove, and looks out upon the pretty boulevard known as Lighthouse road from its front, and upon the broad Pacific from its rear. It is embowered amidst towering pines and aromatic shrubs and grasses, which exhale perennial breaths and spices, and adorns an exquisite plat in the upper centre of the grove, from which drives and walks radiate in all directions. There are also many pretty chalets and lodges all around, embroidered with floral designs which betray the presence of the refining hand of woman, and little artistic conceits on every hand.

HOTEL EL CARMELO.

THE ARCHITECTURAL PROPORTIONS OF EL CARMELO.

It seems to have been the aim of the architect to erect a lovely home in the woods, where the balsamic odors from the pine and the ozone of the sea should mingle with atmosphere and sunbeam at all times and at all points. At a glance, indeed, one can see that fresh air and sunshine may enter into and chase each other over every part of the house. And we may state right here that great pains have been taken that no impurities shall arise to counteract the aggregation of good things arrived at, as the freshest of Carmel River water has been introduced into every apartment, and a sanitary system of plumbing has been carried into effect that shall instantaneously sweep into the sea all sewerage matter and leave not the slightest vapor or odor behind. El Carmelo is lighted with gas manufactured on the premises; and an elevator of the newest and most improved pattern has been introduced. It is three stories (and an attic) high, and has a frontage of something over 200 feet. It has 114 rooms, and will accommodate from 150 to 175 people. Besides the elevator there are three broad staircases, and there are many means of entrance and exit.

THE GROUNDS.

There is a lovely garden surrounding El Carmelo second only to that of Del Monte. It may be readily seen that El Carmelo will take very high rank among other pleasant and elegant resorts, and that no pains have been spared in its erection, and none will be in its management.

MRS. E. J. DAWSON, Secretary, San Jose.

The great event of the season is the meeting of this important body, now upon its 19th consecutive session at the Grove. Every year shows a growth in numbers and interest and an improvement of program. Through the East and West no resort is considered complete without an Assembly. The Assembly at Pacific Grove is not behind the best Eastern Assemblies in the quality of its talent.

In the matter of location Assemblies are always placed with prominent reference to natural advantages, and in respect to these Pacific Grove is peerless. For purposes of Assembly work, in climate and physical opportunities, etc., Pacific Grove is unsurpassed. It is the ideal summer climate for the student; as many hours may be spent here in study as in college, and after it all the opportunities for recreation are such that rest and relaxation follow quickly on labor and the mind is ready for new effort.

Full summer school privileges are afforded by the Assembly, the emphasis being naturally upon such branches as the abounding life of Monterey Bay and coast make it possible to pursue with a satisfaction found nowhere else, for example Biology, Zoology, Botany, land and marine. Art also has a large place favored by the beauty of land and sea and sky for which the region is famous. Other departments are represented, Systematic Bible Study, Languages, ancient and modern, Physical Culture and Expression, Vocal Music, Photography and Cookery. For all of these a nominal fee only is charged in the Assembly and the best talent is allied to the work as will be seen by the following schedule of departments and teachers.

Biology and Zoology, represented by instructors from the Hopkins Seaside Laboratory; Marine Botany, Dr. C. L. Anderson; Land Botany, Prof. and Mrs. J. G. Lemmon; Art, John Ivey; Bible Study, Prof. R. R. Lloyd; Languages, Professor J. W. Reidemann; Conchology, Professor Josiah Keep; Entomology, Professor C. W. Woodworth; Vocal Music, Professor Lawrence; Cookery, Miss Kate E. Whitaker; Photography, J. H. Flickel.

A special set of courses will be offered this year for teachers and will include Sloyd, Drawing, Nature Study, Vocal Music and Physical Exercise. Concerning these courses address, Miss Lucy M. Washburn, State Normal School, San Jose. These courses will run for several weeks.

The best talent of the nation is challenged for lecture courses and the highest grade of concerts and entertainments is provided, all as well on a thoroughly popular basis; indeed an Assembly at Pacific Grove is an ideal experience, meeting all the demands of an outing in physical privileges, etc., and combining with recreation rational entertainment and instruction, while to a student or to one hospitable to culture it is a season of rich opportunities.

Special emphasis is to be placed this season on the Concerts of the Assembly, which have always been of an exceptionally high grade. An advance on this will be made and an Oratorio by a large chorus of trained voices will be given under the direction of James Hamilton Howe, other features in music will appear and the soloists of the Assembly will be Mrs. Mary Weaver-McCauley of San Jose and Miss Beresford Joy of Los Angeles. The Knickerbocker Concert Company and other musical combinations will also appear.

The talent for the year includes Dr. P. J. Henson of Chicago, the most brilliant and wittiest man on the platform; John Temple Graves, considered the greatest American Orator now living; Dr. A. C. Hirst of Chicago, formerly president of the Assembly; Dr. Osborn, the noted Alienist; Dr. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University; Prof. R. R. Lloyd, Prof. Leon Richardson, John Ivey, Miss A. B. McGilivray and others, promising the best program ever offered.

MONTEREY AND CHARMING HOTEL DEL MONTE

MONTEREY has always had the reputation, among old Californians, of being the healthiest and most delightful spot in their State, and since the building of the Hotel del Monte, visitors to its inviting haunts have had the comforts, enjoyments and surroundings which refined and cultivated people desire, while availing themselves of its equable and salubrious climate. Since the opening of the Hotel del Monte, Monterey has been visited by thousands of tourists from all parts of the United States and Europe, who heartily endorse all that is said in behalf of this famous resort.

There is probably no place upon the seashore in our State so replete with natural charms as Monterey. Its exquisite beauty and variety of scenery is diversified with ocean, bay, lake and streamlet; mountain, hill and valley; and groves of oak, cypress, spruce, pine and other trees. The mountain views are very beautiful, particularly the Gavilan and Santa Cruz spurs.

Near the edge of a beautiful park, one hundred and twenty-six acres of undulating land, within the sound of the low murmurs of the waters of Monterey Bay, there rises above the mingled foliage of surrounding oak, pine and cedar trees, a building of magnificent proportions, constructed in the modern Gothic style. This is the magnificent Hotel del Monte.

Del Monte has proved to be one of the rarest hotel successes on record. Instead of being a resort principally for the pleasure-loving Californian, it has attracted tourists from all parts of the globe; and its name as a "blessed and beloved place" has been sounded in every civilized land. The mere mention of the name of this "Queen of American Watering Places" calls forth vivid recollections in every home of refinement on the Pacific Coast.

The hotel itself, together with its fittings, settings and furnishings, is a work of art suggestive of culture and refinement, while its surroundings embrace everything that is grand and beautiful in nature, from the roar of the rolling waters of the great Pacific, which, like a grand requiem, puts to rest the weary brain, to the tiny pansy, which blooms as cheerily in the month of December as in May.

The visitor coming to this place expecting to find an ordinary hotel, a house of public accommodation, constructed and conducted purely for purposes of profit, where the surroundings are all oppressively suggestive of the commercial rather than the social aspect of life, will be disappointed and agreeably so. In its external and internal appearance, and the social atmosphere and tone which pervades the entire establishment, it reminds one infinitely more of a modern English country mansion than of an American watering-place hotel.

The main building is three hundred and eighty feet in length and one hundred and fifteen feet in width, with an east and west annex. The main building is divided into two full stories, a high attic story and a basement. The annexes are each two hundred and eighty feet in length and forty feet in width, divided into four full stories and an attic story each. In all it contains over five hundred rooms, and can easily accommodate seven hundred and fifty guests. The establishment throughout is furnished in the most luxuriant manner. The floors are covered with body Brussels carpet of varied and exquisite patterns, while the furniture, which is walnut, oak and ash, is of the most modern and elegant construction.

* Hotel del Monte *

The table is kept bountifully supplied with every delicacy the market affords, cooked in the most appetizing manner and served in perfect style. And a convenience, but rarely enjoyed at first-class establishments, is that guests may choose either the American or European plan, as both plans are maintained.

The park grounds surrounding the Del Monte have no superior in the world. Nature endowed them with prodigal liberality; and the owners are supplementing Nature's efforts with an equally prodigal expenditure of art. Croquet plats, an archery ground, swings, lawn tennis grounds, choice flowers, shrubs, trees, beautiful walks, and, in short, everything which an experienced landscape gardener's artistic eye can suggest has been done for the improvement of this favored spot.

The Del Monte has been the court in which Queen Fashion holds her levees, the Mecca toward which Pacific Coast society turns its face on the advent of spring, the sanitarium to which the invalid goes for health, and the pleasure resort to which the weary retreat for rest and recreation.

THE BATHING PAVILION

is situated on the beach, about five minutes' walk from the Del Monte. It is an admirably complete establishment and one of the best of its kind. It is seventy feet wide by one hundred and seventy feet long. There are four tanks about thirty-six feet wide by fifty feet long. The water in these tanks ranges in temperature from cold up to warm, and the bather can take his choice. The heating is done by steam, and the water is daily changed. The pavilion contains two hundred and ten dressing rooms, one-half of which is set apart for the use of ladies. Each of the latter is fitted up with a fresh-water shower-bath, while on the gentlemen's side fourteen shower baths serve for all. The pavilion and everything connected with it is kept in scrupulous cleanliness, and always presents a pleasing appearance. When filled with bathers and spectators it presents a spectacle which, in point of animation and interest, would be hard to surpass. Outside of this pavilion is a beautiful sandy beach, on which surf-bathing may be indulged in.

DEL MONTE AND THE SPORTSMEN.

According to the scientists the Monterey bay contains more varieties of game and edible fishes than any other body of water on the Pacific Coast. The quinat salmon, gamey yellowtail, tunny, mackerel, smelt, half a dozen members of the cod family, the monster sea bass and other varieties, all have their regular runs, and there is no month in the year but what some of them are present in the bay.

Points of Interest Near Pacific Grove

The tourist upon leaving Pacific Grove has a choice of routes. If he choose the road to the left he courses along by the sea; if he takes the Forest Avenue road he soon comes onto the seventeen-mile driveway, which leads him to Moss Beach, Seal Rocks, etc. The drives through the town disclose much of interest, and the driver will point out the historic places, and some others, such as the whaling cove, the Chinese fishery, and the spot where the vessel which took Napoleon Bonaparte from off the Island of Elba was wrecked, a portion of which wreck may still be seen at low tide; also the large granite statue, erected by Mrs. Leland Stanford, which marks the landing place of Father Junipero Serra.

POINT PINOS LIGHTHOUSE.-- The stately beauty which ornaments Point Pinos is situated on an eminence or point of land forming the extreme western shore of the Bay of Monterey, and is only a mile from Pacific Grove.

MOSS BEACH.— Moss Beach is upon the regular drive, about a mile from Pacific Grove, three miles from Monterey, and four miles from Del Monte. At low tide a person may walk out on the beach of sand, nearly as hard as cement, for half a mile, where are to be found some very pretty mosses. Nowhere are the waters of the Pacific Ocean more brilliantly varied in hue. Sapphire, opal, emerald, cream-white, topaz, mother of pearl, and crystal of every shade play before the eye with every rush of the mighty wave into the carved and chiseled rocks and long rifts of the Coast.

SEAL ROCKS.— A little farther on, standing in solitary grandeur out in the water a short distance from the shore, are the famed Seal Rocks. Clinging to the jagged sides and peaks of these little granite islands are thousands of seals, easily visible from the shore. There are more seals here than at any other point on the Coast; and the spectacle is a strange and interesting one, as the awkward creatures climb clumsily out of the water and plunge heavily into it. As shooting at them is prohibited, they are very tame; and frequently parties of them are seen in the bay and particularly in the neighborhood of the wharf at Monterey. They are one of the most interesting curiosities of the Coast.

CYPRESS POINT.— Another little beach and another little stretch of forest road brings one to the famed Cypress Point. Here is a grove of trees wholly unlike any found elsewhere on the Coast. The huge gnarled trunks give evidence of great age. The close-knit branches and golden-green foliage produce a wealth of shade. Beyond Cypress Point lies Carmel Bay, if anything more beautiful than the Bay of Monterey. Another reach of road brings one to Pebble Beach.

CARMEL MISSION.— At a distance of about five miles from the Hotel del Monte, by the county road, which is generally taken, is the San Carlos (or Carmel) Mission. This Mission, one of the four established toward the end of the eighteenth century in Upper California by Father Junipero Serra and his coadjutors in the work of civilization, was founded on the third of June, 1770. It is a noble building, standing in a landscape full of enchanting beauties. Here and there one of the Monterey cypresses stamps the scenery with an astonishing likeness to points of view common in Italy, so strong is the resemblance between this tree and the Italian stone-pine, dear to the recollection of all travelers.

Monterey

The weather at Monterey is not so warm either in summer or winter as in other parts of California farther south; but there is an even temperature that can be found nowhere else. From January to December, year in and year out, there is really neither summer nor winter weather. Indeed, the weather at Monterey, from one year's end to the other, partakes of that delightful interlude known in the East and South as Indian Summer. No California tourist should miss a visit to Monterey. Invalids may prolong life at this delightful spot; for the pure oxide contained in every atom of air, and inhaled at every breath, has a most efficacious effect upon the system. The healthfulness of this section is unquestionable, and is second to none in the world. What is known as the rainy season begins in November and lasts three or four months.

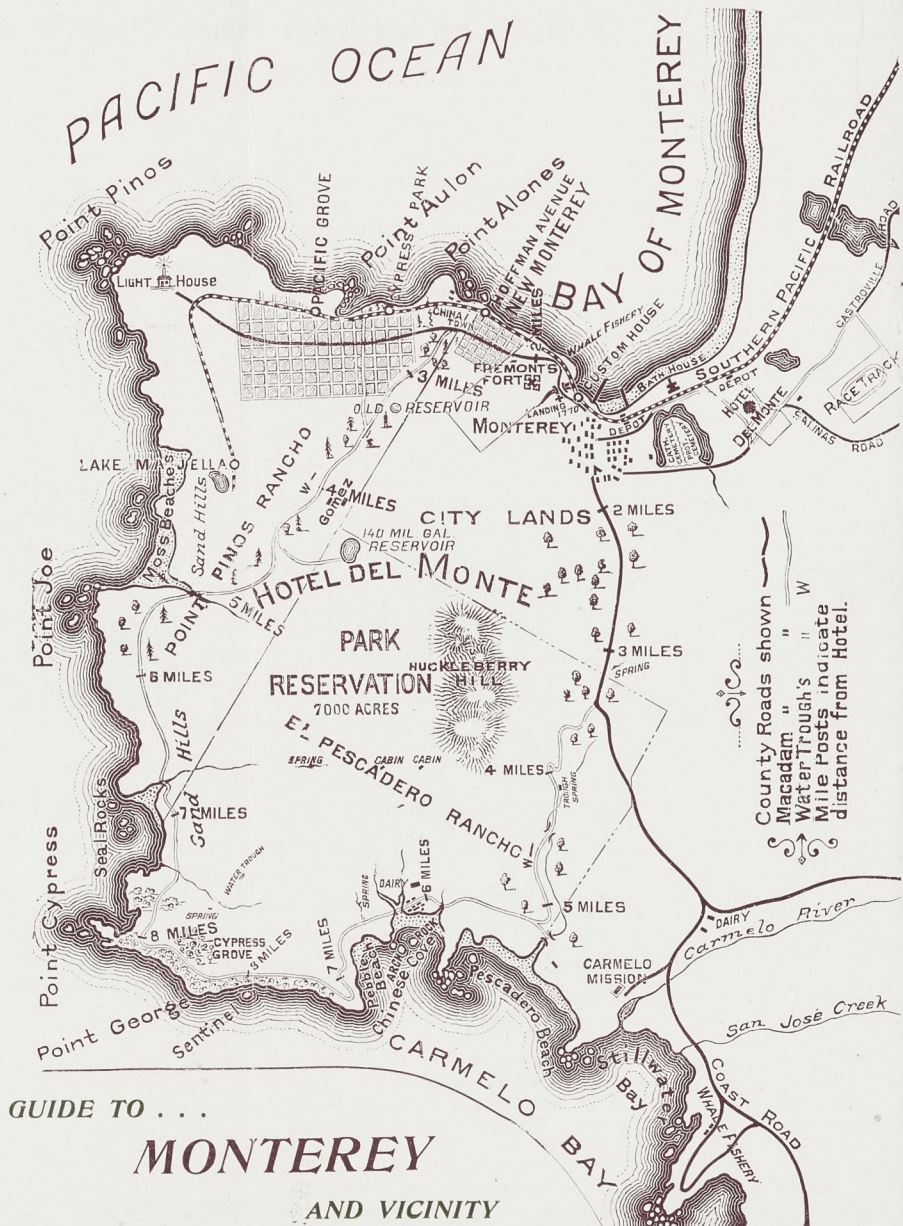

Many people who have never visited California erroneously imagine that during the "wet season"—so called in contradistinction to the dry months—rain never ceases to descend.

This popular error is corrected by glancing at weather tables, which invariably show that during the wet season in California there is not only less rain, but more fair and beautiful days, than in any other portion of the United States during the same time.

The following figures representing the mean temperature of January and July, and the average annual rainfall (in inches in Montene, St. Paul, St. Augustine (Florida), and also in San Diego, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles and Monterey (California), afford a subject well worthy of consideration:

	Jan.	July	Rainfall
San Diego.....	57°	65°	10
Santa Barbara....	56	66	15
St. Augustine.....	59	77	55
St. Paul.....	13	73	30
Mentone.....	30	69	23
Los Angeles.....	55	67	18
Monterey.....	50	65	14

After each rainfall at Monterey the sun comes out warm, and in twenty-four hours after the most copious pour there are no traces of the visitation left, except in firm, mudless grounds and roads, and fresh growth of grasses, shrubs and flowers.
